I updated to Sketchup 2019 yesterday and installed several Sketchup addons from my previous Mac installation, including LibFredo6. During installation I got a warning, "Could not install extension:. Related . January 30, 2020 I want to install a new version of LibFredo6 for Sketchup 2019. I download the.zip file from GitHub but it is in ZIP format so can not be installed. What do i do? Related . December 5, 2019 Hi, we have an extension (LibFredo6) that modifies the way SketchUp works. It causes SketchUp to slow down the way it responds to user input and makes it harder to use SketchUp. We are offering a license upgrade for the next eight weeks (please see the options at the bottom of the page). The upgrade includes a realtime error reporting system, making our troubleshooting a lot easier. We just want to make sure that the problem you are having can be solved by the extension and not the . December 4, 2019 I bought a new SSD and installed Sketchup 2019 on it. During the first startup it crashed because it could not load my old Sketchup folder. I used the restore functionality of Sketchup to restore everything. This is where the problem started. At first I thought that the problem was with my PC and not with Sketchup, since I could open Sketchup but could not load my project due to a message. The message was in French and indicated that the problem was a large.lxf file. The Sketchup directory was restored and the message disappeared, but I still could not load my project. Related .
