As in the previous two episodes, The Wanderer is a new ship that the player can order to move around the landscape and its little helpers. The new ship is equipped with various weapons that the player can upgrade as they collect and find weapons along the way. In addition, there are achievements for completing the game in certain ways. The Wanderer is a fascinating creature who has the ability to turn into a variety of creatures, all for you to fight and battle. He can be a weapon or a shield, an ally or a... more]]> 14 Feb 2013 15:37:00 -0600VECTOR4567This package includes 20+ cardbacks currently in-game and will include additional cardbacks as they are released.Please note - this does NOT unlock special cosmetic content earned through Tournaments, Season Play, or offered through other DLC packs. About This SoftwareModlab is not an image editor. ModLab is a free tool that can generate normal maps in a realtime deferred rendering environment. It was initially created as an asset previewing and mastering tool for the game Wayward Terran Frontier which means it stands out among other content creation utility programs by featuring a full hardware rendering pipeline for previewing results in realtime.Modlab can generate high quality normal maps without 3d geometry.ModLab is completely free but you can support development at The Modlab project has 3 core goals.To provide entry level graphic designers an alternative way to create difficult assets such as normal maps and specular/roughness maps.To provide professional graphic designers an ideal environment for fine tuning their art and exporting ready-to-ship assets.To serve as a test bed for new experimental content generation techniques and algorithms. i.e. cool stuff we want to play around with. Depending on reception and feedback Modlab may grow to become much much more. We would like to continue developing Modlab in coordination with the community. Our goal is to have the product remain

What's new:

+MGM is available now on MOG, where you can also stream all of litle Dew 1 now. It's been a lot of fun seeing the new songs by which this was inspired develop over the years. Every year since I started writing the songs we've gotten to hear about new songs and concert material that was developed out of the studio sessions with a song. First Misegenation had a great song that was developed from its first appearance in the house jams. Emblematica got the lute from the riddim came from the drums. Nitejar got its guitar from Kota. Wonderful Spriti got her diving costume from the recording studio. This year I've been lucky enough to work on the soundtrack to the movie MGM, which has been a lot of fun. We recorded the sounds, the original ensemble of the band, and we did most of the vocals. Misegenation sang the initial "I'll be free-minim from now on!" and Jenny sang the ending. Sammy provided most of the background vocals and played the horn as well. Dizzy sang the rest of the female vocals, partly in answer to our request for an alternate vocal. How could it go wrong? We recorded drum sounds for the studio tracks. The music was programmed through Steinberg's Cubase on my Mac. We did all of the arrangements and produced each song. Every arrangement and arrangement that wasn't done by the band was built around a sound a particular instrument played. A big thank you to Sammy and Kerry for providing the means and knowledge with which to know what to play. Of course we listened to the riddim for harmonizing and other suggestions. All the arrangements, and arrangement for the production, were done by Misegenation's Patrick, just in case you were wondering. Patrick is a Hollywood musician/sound engineer that Misegenation brought into the studio. Most of the background vocals were also arranged by Patrick. The movie, MGM, is a short 14 minute movie made back in 2007. It was shot around Los Angeles and was recorded with a lot of cool instruments played by a large ensemble. It was distributed by the Internet to a community in Mexico that wasn't available to the people in America. It was released as a DVD with the soundtrack. The DVD can be found at litle Dew's boutique in the link below: [I've heard that it's been difficult to get all of the album and film on CD

DEATH-TO-THE-COPS makes you the boss of a burger-joint, where you've got to balance the sales of your burgers, and the joints. You begin with a small space and some petty cash to make some legal, and illegal, investments. Expand your restaurant by obtaining more space, serving new food items, and upgrading your layout. Build an intimidating crime empire by hiring a gang, selling contraband, and pulling off robberies. Beware, police will always be on patrol, and the FDA and cartel will be waiting for the right time to strike. Your goal as a manager is to finally reach your retirement, so your operation must survive six months without being raided. The success of your restaurant will build reputation, keeping the suspicions of the FDA low and the cartel away, allowing you to expand and grow. The success of your criminal enterprise will build fierceness, keeping the cops away and allowing you to expand further Build your business and earn your retirement! ===== RELAXED MUSIC ONLY ===== Life can be easy sometimes, but if you want to see how it feels, follow me on social media @man_king_media TWITTER: INSTAGRAM: SNAP: MY WEBSITE: GOOGLE+: ===== DEATH-TO-THE-COPS makes you the boss of a burger-joint, where you've got to balance the sales of your burgers, and the joints.
